

CHRONICLE N°22All these wars... and after?
Towards the new era of information

At the time when we were writing this text, Russian forces had massively entered Ukraine. According to President Vladimir Putin, this special operation was the beginning of his country's response to these "globalists" who, pushing the NATO infrastructures to the doors of Russia, are striving for the domination of the planet. It would therefore be these Nazi/Straussian globalists who, in order to undermine the global balance, sent their mercenaries to train the Ukrainian army and lurch Europe into war.

<https://www.sott.net/article/465045-Russia-declares-war-on-the-Straussians>

These Nazi militaries – for most, soulless individuals, or even organic portals – will have used the populations of Ukraine's major cities as human shields against the Russian forces. Their vile war tactic will have generated numerous innocent victims amongst the civilian population. However, these conflicts between Europe, the United-States, Russia, and probably soon China, are not yet, and far from it, the most serious events which are striking our planet Earth.

Whilst the Russian president had repeatedly warned of the possibility of a conflict against the psychopaths of Davos, most of them being Nazi-Zionist-anti-Semitic descendants who rule Europe, the latter, relying on orders that do not come from human beings, imagined then organized this war in order to fulfill the obligations engraved on the Great Reset monument: the Georgia Guidestones. They therefore respond to a superior "ethnic and genetic cleansing" plan against the preponderant Semitic genome among the Russians.

In short, the vile behavior of these non-human Nazis would trigger the opening of an energy-magnetic portal from the 4th towards the 3rd density! These dimensional openings then call for these hordes of Nephilim/Anunnaki (these Service to Self 4th density entities who have already been mentioned throughout the Angel's transmissions), to penetrate our reality in order to take possession of "genetically compatible" human bodies, preparing to be embodied within them with the objective of colonizing the 3rd density of "planet Earth"!

Incompatible with that of the Nephilim invaders, the Semitic genetics which would be prevailingly expressed among certain Russian populations, therefore had to be neutralized before the planet's colonization by these predators. Even if they still are in conflict about planet Earth's future, the STS hyperdimensional forces may finally manage to compel ordinary humans to a self-cleansing of the planet.

(About the New Earth , see Chronicle 19 <https://unfuturdifferent.jimdofree.com/traductions/anglais/> and on the Nephilim, see Chronicle 15 <https://unfuturdifferent.jimdofree.com/traductions/anglais/>)

So yes, you read it right! In the same manner as for the last two world wars which only were a trial run, these Nazi Anunnaki-Nephilim STS hyperdimensional entities would once again be the true instigators of this conflict which, this time, materialized in Ukraine.

This "Great Reset", this means the human population eradication imagined by the Nazi puppet master Klaus Schwab and all his gang of the "World Economic Forum" program, is now taking shape, however, absolutely not in the way that their European political puppets had anticipated it! As other portals of this type could still open in Canada, South America, or elsewhere, notably in Switzerland, thanks to the particle accelerator in Geneva, even if visibly, there is no war going on there yet.

Sergio Bertolucci, former Director of Research and Scientific Computing at CERN, even displaying the insolence of publicly expressing his "stupid scientist's pride" to a British tabloid, stated himself that the super collider will be able to open doors to another world or to other dimensions. According to him, this opening, for a very tiny lapse of time, could be enough to peer into it and to allow, either to get something out of it, or to send something through it!

<https://www.rt.com/op-ed/313922-cern-collider-hadrob-higgs/>

"Fortunately", the STS entities always warn of their intentions!

This would also prove, that beyond its frontage as a scientific community "studying protons", the CERN would seem to be a whole other tool in the hands of those who built it. As once opened, the passage through these dimensional doors would be "stabilized" by specific waves, this time inferred by the artificial frequencies of the famous HAARP network.

In other words, by the simultaneous and synchronized commissioning of all these devices spread on the planet's surface, the Nephilim/Anunnaki entities of 4th density will manage to stabilize in our world, as genetics corresponding to these entities will be more or less able to artificially maintain in the gravitational frequencies of the planet.

Then seemingly futile and useless, would all these wars in Syria, in Iraq or currently in Ukraine not be used to divert humanity's attention, while even more serious and important other events were being prepared elsewhere?

All things considered, modern humanity, already marked by the Covid pseudo-crisis and its masquerade, then by a stupid vaccination campaign with its discriminatory and draconian "vaccine pass", will soon be marked by the boots and cannon roar of this new type of invaders. This will then lead to major food shortages that will definitively prevent the still sleeping "European" from ignoring the reality of his world. That is why all those people who, like ostriches, had dug their head in the sand in order not to see the reality unveiling on our planet, will be obliged to take it out when their asses will be burning.

Now, let us ask ourselves a real question: in our so modern world, so civilized, would there still exist individuals still stupid enough to accept to go to war, simply to continue to prove their allegiance to these "Emperors of the Shadow of the dark side of the Force"? Certainly, yes!

There are politicians, law enforcement agencies, militaries and all these technocrats and governmental agents who still are dumb enough to fall into this transdimensional trap! It is their job, they are paid to support this adrift system and will continue to do so with great zeal. In their case, as they have sold their soul and their human ethics, an even darker future than it was up to now, awaits them! They will then soon have to really and physically fight against these Nephilim/Anunnaki entities.

As amongst those security forces which roam the big cities, or those armies on the battlefield, most of the men of rank who owe obedience to the orders of their superiors and who therefore remain responsible for the missions entrusted to them, still ignore that their senior officers are generally not human, but often are Anunnaki, more exactly corporal extensions of Nephilim, leading ordinary humanity towards the second phase of its extinction. Like every 3600 years, the hidden and secret invasion of these visitors coming from outer space has therefore well and truly begun again!

It is now about understanding why at this very moment, the "first plan" for the reduction of population by the New World Order psychopaths, seems to be falling apart! Before being delighted by the collapse of the globalists' first project, should we not understand that this program was deliberately destroyed, so that the second phase of the Great Reinitialization, this means the one of technocracy, can unfold on its tracks?

Let us then also understand that the consequences that will follow, such as starvation, epidemics and other wars, will probably become powerful control and regulation tools for the second phase of eradication of the global population. That would henceforth be the new reality on the Earth in 3rd density!

The difficult ordeals to come will overthrow ordinary humanity, but will however become a powerful engine for a mass change which always goes hand in hand with the changes of time and density.

A great disarray henceforth prevails among those who know a little about the stakes of the great mutation of the human people, since behind all this chaos is hidden the ultimate goal of a technocratic totalitarianism, of mass surveillance, of medicinal self-monitoring of all this tame population, of zombies or weak-minded people... Of course, in the long term, their sinister project will not hold up either, since these maneuvers were planned in order to finalize the current cycle of 3rd density.

But the nature and handling of the matrix system of 3rd density by the STS predators will prove to be very dangerous to manage in the future. As the slightest grain of sand in its cog will lead to enormous complications within human society. The last straw in this perspective of future, is that those who are already in command will not only lead the ordinary human to the final collapse point, whatever happens, but the matrix that they had themselves created will also be destroyed!

Ordinary humanity should therefore stop living in optimism, in hope. As optimism is an illusion, a toxin for the spirit which does not solve in any ways the phenomenon of the illusory perception of existence! This “optimism of the ordinary human”, quite simply reflects his total lack of awareness of reality!

Truly human individuals, this means those who are beginning to become intelligent and really conscious, should therefore already have learnt to organize themselves so that they never have to suffer from Covid, vaccination, repression, or war, while “waiting” that the shock of the mutation is felt on the planet! And until the majority of humans choose to wake up to this gruesome reality, the few individuals who are already aware, will have understood that while they will be watching this capital change for human society, they will have to continue to live in their tiny bubble of alternative reality.

It has henceforth become useless to support or show sympathy for humans in difficulty in war zones, for those injured during protest marches, for truckers in Ottawa, France, or anywhere else in the world! As we should no longer have sympathy for the weak-minded people who, while masterfully discrediting the laws of the universe, have chosen to drift towards their fatal destiny.

It therefore makes sense that one or several parts of the STS controllers decided to intentionally disrupt the matrix-like principle of the world of 3rd density. Since this combination of stupid-looking but intentional belligerent acts, with their consequences as unpredictable as they may become, will undoubtedly reform certain unavoidable factors in the history of humanity.

The last two world wars having notably been orchestrated as a testing ground, no one will guess the outcome of this third conflict which has just begun, not even through the “Looking Glass” technology scanning the horizon of future history. (The Looking Glass technology uses wormholes. It can see the past and a possible future. But can it see the future of a chronology, or several chronologies? According to certain testimonies, the Looking Glass device also makes it possible to teleport oneself to other worlds!)

And if this technology really remained functional, the STS humans of the 3rd level should have noticed that modern and technological humanity had hardly changed! It had indeed made some progress, but has nevertheless not changed. Today, endowed with its super technologies, it has even become even more dangerous than before, especially for its planetary biotope, since in the domain of destruction or war, its action field has become even more important than during the previous cycle. Modern human has become so greedy and stupid, that they no longer know how to do anything but destroy or self-destroy, to the point where they will exterminate themselves from the face of the Earth!

However, the true intelligence – not that of the ordinary human with their intellect, their dogmas or their education, but that of the true human being and their sensibility which will naturally be part of their inner consciousness, of their intuition and their life force – has not grown much yet, since its evolutionary process is only beginning.

This is why those who still think they are obliged to ask the permission or opinion of others, of their supervisors, of any authority, of their friends, of their relatives... by refuting one’s own feelings or one’s own consciousness, mainly moves away from the intelligence, consciousness or guidance of their hyperdimensional higher Self, which then systematically plunges them back into their automatism and their beliefs, constantly tying them up to the same matrix of illusion.

Yet, if this individual began to realize that their “Angel¹” personifies this form of vibratory intelligence integrating into their life and which, plunging into their Beingness, preserves them from the so-called “negative” outer influences, they would become aware that they could have become absolutely autonomous and sovereign in their world! Thus, invested by the consciousness of their hyperdimensional Self (their “Angel²”), such an individual would be perfectly free! They would no longer ask for the opinion or the permission of anyone to be what they have to be. They would embody and express their own nature.

While waiting for this change, and once the implosion of this matrix of 3rd density will have begun, no one, no human, no consciousness, will stop the process.

Question to the Angel:

Emotionally affected by the disappearance of the D’Ankhiar planet revealed by the Cassiopaeon transmissions, Sand had quickly been experiencing various physical and psychic manifestations, which she translated as a kind of hypersensitivity to all these changes. These symptoms which are also described by other seekers, also emerged in our group. Are they linked to these events of transdimensional origin?

As mentioned previously, connections between you and other groups of STO-orientated seekers, are already established on other planes, based on your soul resonances and your personalities! One of the peculiarities of your group is that you have accepted your soul mission full time. You are among those rare individuals who have completely given up their previous life in order to be involved 24 hours a day! Thus, already at this level, your operating mode is quite different from those of other groups or seekers.

Your work has indeed included visiting the past and future memories of your mutual hyperdimensional “ancestors”, who were the reptilian geneticists mothers. Many of them, incarnated in 3rd density through human extensions, were programmed to ignore, even disavow their memories, precisely because you had to explore them! Thus, Sand was suffering physically and emotionally, since parts of her coming from these reptilian planes still maintained psychic links with other “geneticists mothers”, whose human extensions remain in other groups of investigators.

Also, through your investigations and lines of research about the existence of reptilian entities, into which the large majority of questers of knowledge are also reluctant to get involved, you have been guided to focus your investigations on the multiple dimensions of karma, which are expressed in the human genome. Sometimes still revealing themselves through restraint, or sufficiency towards each others, these karmic frames often remain the major underlying cause of parochial quarrels between researchers in such or such field, or between the individuals and the groups to which they belong.

² “Angel” in French is “Ange”, which can be written in the language of the Goslings “En-je”, translating as “Within me”.

Perhaps we do not repeat it often enough: human remains generally unable to remember their karmic lessons, especially if these do not gratify them. Nevertheless, the soul always remembers it! And when their memories warn them, they first cause a certain ill-being in order to push the individual to question himself. As a last call, physical disorders, even diseases can occur!

Thereby, sometimes, those who doubt or are still “closed” to some information which are given by their future Self, may for example be affected by various symptoms, such as the loss of hearing capacity. Others who are reluctant to unveil some of their karmic frames could for example be affected by declining eyesight... or even, the fear to take that step in the unknown could also provoke motor weaknesses, yet not only! Even if the organism is pushed towards its transformation thanks to the cosmic changes, it nevertheless remains that the soul expresses itself through various ailments so that the individual can adapt to the new vibratory frequencies when the time comes.

In any case, as the genome of humans has been hampered by their hyperdimensional STS “Me, myself and I” (their predators), humanity would be unable to survive to the times ahead, if some beings of higher consciousness and intelligence did not come to help it. And they are the ones who have invested the consciousness of these last hour missioned people, of whom you are part today.

To formulate it more clearly, prominent members of a galactic community assisted, among others, by Amasutum geneticists and Kadistu creators of worlds, are currently manifested in their human body extensions, in order to help the new human race adapt its genetics to the cometary viral charges and better endure the new magnetic frequencies during its forthcoming passage in 4th density. Thus, you are the ones you have been waiting for!

However, these creators of lives and worlds seeders are not incarnated to save humanity or to battle against STS entities, at least not in the way that most of “love and light” right-thinking people could imagine it. They are simply present in this end of times in order to offer Knowledge to those who are in demand, participate in raising their frequencies of resonance and help increase the critical mass of consciousnesses required for the switchover.

Nevertheless, in 2014, the Cassiopaeans notified that the critical mass was still much lower than what you (seekers of knowledge) would need.

They also specified at that time, while addressing to the group of Cassiopaea seekers: “[...] keep your awareness sharp and carry on, as there are STO forces in your corner.”
<https://cassiopaea.org/forum/threads/session-6-december-2014.36657/#post-536771>

“Since then”, thanks to these “forces in their corner” and to the mechanism of networking, more and more people are becoming aware of the importance of searching for “Knowledge”. This implies that people progressively integrate what the “new cosmic energies” were pushing them to learn. And it is because some of them manage to stabilize in these “new vibratory frequencies”, that they gradually become these new humans progressing towards their psychic mediumship, who hear their own thoughts talking to them, but who also know how to identify certain categories of “predatory thoughts” which are no longer their own.

Nevertheless, and for the moment yet, their own voices which dialogue in their mind are still too often tinged by doubts and fears, that is to say by their “emotional ego”, that they perceive as real but, which in reality, is perfectly unreal or imaginary. So, when they remain isolated in their world like in an echo chamber, some of them occasionally graze schizophrenic states, simply because they are not yet psychically able to “put things in perspective” between the subjective and the “real truth” that they perceive in their information fields. That’s why we often encouraged you to talk about these phenomena in a group or through network sharing, in order for you to perceive that your states of being are often very close to those of the 4th density worlds of consciousness.

Thus it won’t be long before the networking between tribal units that form here and there, reaches a suitable projection level on the planet. This “protection” will come from the inversion of energy frequencies of this many corrupted information coming from STS sources. So, even if it is not yet objectively perceptible, this networking of “correct or objective information” starts to become more and more significant.

Question to the Angel:

The group consciousness of the LEOs of the future let us glimpse that networking between groups of seekers would open the passage towards a new era of humanity. How could this networking influence this era to come?

The new era of humanity will turn into an era of openness to spontaneous exchange of accurate information. Thus, it means conversely that, in the ancient world, the open and selfless sharing of this kind of information has almost never existed. In the world of 3rd density, it was usual to compare oneself, or compete with others. Everyone feared that others would possess more, do better, know more than him... As a result, in many fields, informations were marketable. But they were also truncated, or “interpreted by each one’s point of view”, due to the egotistical mechanism of personal interpretation and sometimes also because of a much too approximate oral diffusion of their data.

In other areas too, the access to information had been locked due to industrial spying, military secrets, intellectual property, censorship, fake news, copyright... These mechanisms of controlling or censoring the flow of data simply existed in order for things to happen so that the gatekeepers of the matrix could include lies and control or stifle certain truths. But soon, all these abuses to the restriction of information sharing will seal the old era of lie and possession!

In any event, social networks, or all these so-called technological information platforms such as Google, Apple, Microsoft, Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, Instagram, TikTok, Reddit, that have complied with the censoring order of the US gatekeepers, will soon be led either to change their communication policy, or to disappear from Internet networks.

In this approaching new era, information will no longer be an “intellectual property”, since more and more people will have access to it via their own connection to the information field and will thus be able, by their frequencies and without any difficulty, to make the difference between untruthful and truthful information. However, to endorse the closure of this era of withholding of information, logical consequence of the Service to Self cycle, the human of the future will first have to begin to question all their certainties, knowing that what they believed to be objective or true only represented only a small surface of reality!

They will therefore not try to study things that have never crossed their mind, yet they will be led to progressively look in a new direction, so that they could start opening their consciousness to realities that have never had their place in the old world, but which will find it in the next one. And when the real human, this “new human”, will have understood that they really didn't know much about life and that their ignorance of the truth had become abysmal, they will only be able to turn to themselves to realize that the secrets of the universe have remained hidden within them, and that buried amongst them, lay powerless the stubborn intellect of their ego!

The human of tomorrow will therefore primarily need to learn to open their mind to all that their so-called intelligence still refuses to accept. And only when they will have understood all their illusion, will they be able to progress and perceive the great secrets of life. The modern scientists who think they have fully perceived the essence of spirituality will henceforth seek to truly understand it. But only certain individuals will perfectly penetrate the nature of reality, since they will have discovered that Consciousness is a magnetic field that is constantly moving within their being, and that truth, which is never static, is way more dynamic.

As for you, with the inner opening of your connectivity to the higher mental, that is to say to your future Self, some information items that you would have never dared to provide yourselves, will arise in your mind and suddenly penetrate your consciousness, throwing all of their light on your ignorance.

Consequently, when you will succeed in expressing perfectly your emotions, not through your beliefs, but “freely” through your own truths that speak via your intuitions, and then communicating this intuitive truth to others, you will then be able to observe how this “deep truth” is growing synchronically to firmly manifest itself, when it must influence someone’s course of life. This intuited information/truth will thus participate in expanding the true Knowledge.

By progressing this way in the information field, these truths automatically raise the vibratory frequency of one, then the other and finally that of more and more people. Therefore there is no need to justify yourselves, to fight, to oppose to anyone, when you disagree with an information. But you simply need to thank your respective “Higher Self” that, thanks to your interaction, had offered you the experience! This art of accomplishing your work will also exponentially increase your group’s resonance frequency.

Unfortunately, a lot of individuals in New Earth collectives struggle to understand how this kind of work can mutually uplift their energy frequencies. That is particularly true for people who get together with the intention of carrying out a “living together” type of project. As these groups of individuals have often been reunited on past temporal lines. Which is why old emotions coming from previous lives reemerge and through jealousy, annoyance, hard feelings, resentment, envy, guilt... block the achievement of all their work.

Similarly, we also observe that you often form work binomials or trinomials, in which you become active and sometimes, without really knowing why, inexplicable memories of anger emerge in each of you! Such work cells cannot reach their maximum potential of vision, until all their participants understand the principle of the quantum mirror, their karmic roles and the related emotions.

The principle of quantum mirror would enable to penetrate the worlds of our human alter on other planes of reality, but not only...

Some of you have already understood that in order to overcome that kind of memories, it is first about recognizing all the emotions they raise, becoming completely conscious of your feelings one toward another (or the ones to the others), and then to honestly communicate them without being afraid to hurt or be unpleasant. And once these emotions and their memories are introduced into your present consciousness, by discussing it during your sharings, they naturally and automatically return to the past to which they belong.

You therefore have to go through a process: admit your feelings or resentment by putting aside your prejudice, and as you have formed a group, put all their aspects on table to talk about them. And when you will have revealed the information from your inner being, the process will enlighten you and everybody, and will then offer you to go back to a state of balance with the other, which is the highest vibratory state that you can generate.

By the way, have you not noticed that thanks to your sharings, your life does not have the same dimensions anymore? A lot of areas of interest by which the ordinary human is still interested are removed from your tribal reality bubble, since they have lost all their meaning within your life and have been replaced by topics of infinitely deeper nature.

Ordinary humans and all their “psychiatric sciences” ignore this mechanism of inner and spiritual transmutation of energies. Only a few informed specialists in neuroscience and clinical research engineers are beginning to perceive the inner and deep mechanism of true Consciousness.

But as long as the ordinary human persist in this ignorance, that is to say as long as they do not manage to overcome the limits of their own fears, of the complacency of their intellect or of their ego and always rejects the origin of their personal dramas on others, that is to say “outside of themselves”, it will be impossible for them to value an information coming from the world they are still evolving in.

So if they lose touch with their intuitions, their instinct, this ordinary individual will lose touch with the very essence of their life. Thus, it is only with the development of their consciousness, that is to say their own progression towards planes of higher intelligence, that all these hidden things in the universe will be revealed to them.

As candidates for the New Earth of 4th density, you were therefore destined to discover your mission of incarnation, the aim of your presence on Earth! You had to learn to retrace your paths of incarnation in order to become aware of your own involvement in the process of humanity’s transmutation.

It will therefore be essential that you never lose sight of the main stages of the process of global Evolution of humanity, in which the Lizzies/ reptilian predators had their roles to play. Consequently, it is from the time you become aware of your destiny and accept your life mission, that all the challenges contracted along your paths of incarnation could be addressed. And in order for the horizon of your perceptions to become much larger, more expansive, you somehow have “self-programmed” yourselves to overcome them.

Thus, it will be about slowly opening up in yourself the “true Consciousness” that will be able to make you perceive or explain to you what is outside of your experiment. From that moment on, the meaning of your life will become way more intense and deeper. You will then discover that absolutely everything has an explanation.

For most people and for the time being, these truths must necessarily go beyond them. However, you should understand that, even if they are not always aware of letting some highlights of these truths slip through their fingers, they will already be able to perceive them, from the moment they “internally” become more sensitive and attentive to their perceptions and intuitions.

Hence, it is not necessarily about finding an intelligent explanation for these highlights, in the sense that you give them in general, but you will perceive a “supra-intelligent” answer that has nothing to do with your intellect, but that will be inspired by you thanks to your intuitive intelligence. That kind of answers will manifest as bundles of vibratory information which, just like a computer program, will suggest you a range of explanations when you will need it.

Similarly, indications, intuitions, certain dreams and coincidences that you experience in your daily life are information coming from the higher worlds, all of which have the function of preventing you from departing from your soul mission or of bringing you back on the right track and of reminding you the direction to be given to your life.

You created this vision of the New Earth in 5th density, in the astral after-life. This vision is related to your group of souls in incarnation, thus deeply rooted in your subconscious. All the members of your tribe have also incarnated in order to remember this vision of a common future, and especially to defeat the polarization of fear.

Question to the Angel:

If we have understood correctly, multiple potentials of future will emerge for the new humanity! Would they materialize in everybody’s future?

These different potentials will not reveal themselves to the entire humanity, but simply to those who are already moving away from the temporal line still current for the ordinary humanity. And it is because they will have used Knowledge to do so, that these other possibilities will become real and tangible. The new humans will thus be those who knew how to imagine, manifest, and then create their alternative world.

Also know that many races from outer-space are there in the invisible of the planet, and help you to achieve this bifurcation of temporal lines at the planetary level. They study the behavior of humanity, watch the progression of its industries, and verify the level of danger that hovers above its civilization. Some of these races have access to the dimensions of space-time and can modify them at will, since they are perfectly aware of the Laws of consciousness and gravity.

Man is therefore not alone on their planet, in fact, they have never been alone! But today the ordinary man, as evolved as they think they are because of their technology and their armament constituting the foundations of all their powers, have developed their consciousness only slightly. They may even burn their planet to ashes!

Your humanity is therefore watched over by very advanced races, who could put an end to your civilization with no difficulty whatsoever. However, they will not do so, but soon, they will just put an end to the established lies and to the development of military technologies that constitute the biggest scourge of your modern era. They will at the same time eliminate the interfering spirits of those psychopaths who will have tried to take over the Earth, and they will support the establishment of a new balance for its civilization.

Therefore, it is only when this great overthrow will happen, that humanity will be able to progress and share its knowledge by comparing that of some with that of the others, that of a country with that of another... It will realize that the universe as prodigious and huge it may be, goes way beyond the capacities of its imagination and its narrow consciousness. Thus, everything man believed impossible will be made possible.

Understanding all of this becomes now very important, since your planet will undergo great transformations. From the industrial era, it is slowly sliding towards a new era, that of true and shared information. However as a whole, its society has not realized yet its mental or psychological adjustment to the new realities.

This progressive adjustment is totally understandable, since the transformation, facilitated through communication technologies much more advanced and ethical than those you knew so far, will happen very fast.

Concretely, sets of completely new realities will appear to individuals. They will be illustrated by tendencies of this new future, in a way that people who have been able to adapt to it, will flourish on these unprecedented time lines.

You will thus literally witness the organization of a new era and will be part of its forming process.
