

CHRONICLE N°27Hyperdimensional influences in human personality
Autism, dissociation and psychic revenants

Psychoanalysis does not believe in spirits, but nevertheless teaches that the result of unconscious transmission to an individual of a “disturbing” psychic content expressed by unusual and incongruous emotions, or even strange or singular behaviours, usually comes from a deceased parent, ancestor or relative. In these cases, this individual would normally be described as schizophrenic.

But when intellectual elements or affective aspects come into play, the individual possessed by the spirit of an ancestor is then often considered as “high emotional potential” (HEP), sometimes “high intellectual potential” (HIP) or even “autistic” in our 3rd density world.

These entities/ancestors would therefore represent what popular beliefs (those of the ignorant and deluded humanity) call a phantom, a revenant or a possession. Generally perceived and described as a psychic complex, sometimes taking a physical appearance emerging from the astral worlds, these revenants can sometimes be perceived (or foreseen) only by those to whom they are addressing.

“Specialists” explain the phenomenon as being essentially induced by resurgences of guilt mixed with family secrets which, through the unconscious, would be transmitted from one generation to the next or from one individual to another.

See about this the Chronicle n°3: Prisoners of walls, prisoners of the past?

The psychoanalyst Bruno Clavier talks about this in his video: Transgénérationnel : quand les traumas de nos ancêtres vivent en nous (In English: Transgenerational: when the traumas of our ancestors live within us)

We, the LEO investigators, are used to calling this phenomena of possession or attachment “alter-egoization process”! The mechanism which can sometimes lead to psychic dissociation phenomena, is often very difficult to bear by the people concerned, as it often originates from hyperdimensional manipulations.

Indeed, in the session of the 18th of May 2019, the Cassiopaeans pointed out:

Q: (L) To protect oneself against hyperdimensional manipulations and harm, I’d say one of the primary things is to avoid dissociating.

A: Yes.

Q: (Artemis) And don’t feed negative thought loops.

(L) Yeah, if you’re dissociating, number one is you’re in a fantasy, which is not paying attention to reality. Number two, you’re having negative thoughts and getting into negative thought loops. That seems to me to be one of the most important. Am I right about that?

A: Indeed!

<https://cassiopaea.org/forum/threads/session-18-may-2019.47219/#post-802653>

Through our own group experiences, we know that alter-egoization phenomena are not only related to mechanisms of spirit attachments coming from individuals deceased in 3rd density. They are much more common than one might admit, activated by phenomena of interpenetrating worlds which, frequently assimilated to dissociation “towards” hyperdimensional worlds, are effects generated by physical or non-physical entities, skilled at manipulating our perception of reality, therefore of space-time!

We also noticed that most of the time, the alter-egoization phenomenon indeed produces “negative” thought loops, which would somehow testify to the existence of “a dead person buried within the next one”. This mechanism, that makes us escape from our current reality, would remain a fantasy which would insert memories of the past (or of the future!) in our consciousness/reality of the moment.

As a matter of fact, the unconscious of the ignorant human inhabiting the 3rd density world is overloaded with possessive spirits who “travel” through time, with ancestors attached to their offspring or to relationships (neighbours, friends...) that they keep on obsessing. Sometimes, they even haunt them through symptoms, pains or physical stigma.

These famous spirit attachments therefore appear as “allegedly paranormal” manifestations that therapists or hypnotherapists try to solve. However, so convinced of being able to take these hyperdimensional entities that manipulate the astral to the level of a dimension of human behaviour and intelligence, these arrogant therapists remain absolutely unable to perceive the unintelligence of their astralized ego.

As an example, see the video of Nathalie Knepper who claims to hunt entities: 123-FR Philippe, préparer l'invasion, Hypnose Régressive Esotérique – Team Grifasi (In English: Philippe, prepare the invasion, esoteric regressive hypnosis – Grifasi Team)

The mechanism of dissociation also leads us on certain occasions to contact parallel worlds, even superior worlds of 4th density, this time very much “alive” and “real”, without necessarily producing negative repetitive loops. In this case, dissociation towards the superior worlds would then rather connect us to what the ordinary human could perceive as the progression of an already well settled future; whereas the world of our deceased alter/ancestors would represent the 3rd density astral world, that is our current reality in which the next dead one on this “list of dead people in the astral” would be every ordinary and ignorant human still alive today.

Isn't it true that our current human world has become a world of zombies, a world of lies, impostures, betrayals and stupidities; an upside-down world, in which very few people are aware of the occult, that is of the “true truths” hidden from them? Even ignoring the existence of higher densities of reality, most people are absolutely not able to understand all these phenomena called supernatural or mysterious that intrude into the reality of their world!

Believing themselves truly alive, because they are endowed with a very physical body, all these individuals “not awake” to “true” reality remain quite simply deeply asleep in their countless beliefs and reflex fantasies, including passive psychic stimulations and unreflective thoughts! Coming simply from the astral memories of their soul, their illusions will persist as long as their Spirit has not merged with their current body.

Ordinary people, this means the uninformed and unconscious public of the universal laws such as that of the end of a human cycle, cannot understand how, thanks to the codes of this renowned non-coding DNA (junk DNA) improved by mRNA carried by cometary viruses, the human being will be called to awaken, then to change density of reality. Indeed, thanks to the rearrangements of their genetics (through epigenetics), they could learn, if they did not get vaccinated, to reconnect to a world of higher vibratory frequencies which, by the intercalation of some sort of informational neo-tissue, would also reconfigure their current world into a 4th density neo-reality.

Thanks to the universal laws of telepathic transmission, this information field would then give them answers to absolutely all their questions and would abolish all fears and existential problems of the individual.

It is therefore possible for any truly awakened human to become telepath, thanks to the protein hooks of their DNA which would reconnect them to this information intelligence zone, in other words to a much wider and higher consciousness space than their human egotistical intelligence. Modern science called this higher intelligence zone “morphogenetic field”. However, at the hyperdimensional level, this space of higher consciousness is none other than the Spirit’s consciousness itself!

In other words, once connected to this zone of intelligence or hyperdimensional consciousness, the true human being would therefore be capable at the same time, through a universal consciousness center to which everyone is naturally linked, to communicate with their ancestors and with consciousnesses that are “more evolved than them”.

This “psychic match” with transdimensional entities, this means thought forms belonging to other worlds, could start to become tangible thanks to the new genetic codes inserted into mRNA of cometary viruses, themselves being able to produce in some humans new structures in their thought schemes.

This thought restructuring episodes that we sometimes experience by being dissociated, are problematic for our human ego which refuses to “believe” in the possibility of perceiving or communicating with the other worlds of the astral.

Indeed, being able to communicate with deceased ancestors vibrating their psychic waves through the thoughts of receptor individuals for example, is part of the capacities of some humans who will inhabit the 4th density world of the future. And to assimilate these “superluminal communication” capacities, by what we hence call “the fusion with the Spirit process”, would be what the Cassiopaeans wanted us to understand by “we will merge with you”!

Extract of the session of the 10th of December 1994

Q: (L) Are these aspects of our being coming to earth as part of the realm border crossing?

A: Yes.

Q: (L) Are all of us going to have to face these aspects of ourselves as other beings?

A: Yes.

Q: (L) Are there other parts of us in all realms doing other things at this moment?

A: Yes.

Q: (L) And how is this going to be affected by the realm border crossing?

A: Will merge [...]

Q: (T) So, when the wave reaches earth and you are transmitting to somebody else out there you will represent yourselves as the “Terrans”?

Q: When wave reaches earth, we merge with you. [...]

Q: (T) You are just another part of ourselves? You, us, the Lizards, the ants, the grays, the trees...

A: We are your whole self as you/we are in 6th density.

Q: (T) So, what we are working to become is You? You are us?

A: Yes. [...]

Q: (T) But, you have told us that you have contacted others under other names?

A: Yes.

Q: (T) Have you told the others?

A: No.

Q: (T) Why have you not contacted the others and told them this?

A: Just answered. Progressive.

Q: (T) Are you still contacting Barbara [Marciniak]?

A: Not at this point. She is in pause mode.

Q: (T) Does she know this?

A: Yes. Write to her and tell her to call "Cassiopea". Next stop is Leo.

Q: (T) In some time in the future, the next sending point is Leo. Does that mean that at some point we will not be able to contact you?

A: We just told you who to call.

Q: (T) Well, what I am having trouble understanding is why we have to call to a certain space point. We are now in touch, does this channel not stay open?

A: Reference point.

Within our LEO experimental group (one of the consciousness centers of Leo constellation mentioned by the Cassiopeans), we are beginning to acquire some notions of what we already understand about the fusion with the higher Self/Spirit phenomenon, also described by Bernard de Montréal or Daniel Kemp. These notions and particular capacities that emerge, sometimes stem from what we also call "dissociation phenomena".

However, before beginning to merge with the Spirit, some individuals amongst the LEO indeed had to experience and learn from their "dissociation gift", in order to understand the true meaning of Service to Others which, we only understood much later, became an important step in the "alteregoized souls" reintegration, happening "before" merging with the Spirit. This dissociation gift could hence provide us information from other reality planes, but which often remained buried in our unconscious until the moment they became useful.

The fusion with the Spirit comes from a progressive metamorphosis caused by the liberation of our parts still living in the planetary astral. This progressive liberation begins to be experienced by some of us. It has been especially accelerated and somehow favoured, because we work and discuss unceasingly our feelings and experiences in group. Moreover, the activation of the process was facilitated by experiencing the energy of the three (cf. Chronicle 26).

Very confronting, this experience remains difficult and painful to assume; this is probably why it is not suggested nor revealed to everyone. Yet this is one of the benefits to verify it! Physically and psychically experimented, the experience by triplicativity can indeed become risky, if we assimilate these exchanges to mere sexuality. Since sexual exchanges, in the way they are perceived and practiced in the astralized worlds of 3rd density, that is to say by forgetting the superior sexual center, can lead to almost unsolvable dissociations, even sometimes to “incurable madness”.

It may thus be dangerous for the soul/spirit of an individual to remain trapped during their lifetime in the astral worlds, such as the Avengers travellers hanged in timelessness (cf. Notebook 7.5); the individual could then remain mentally unbalanced. This is probably why the C’s exhorted the people of the study group formed by Laura Knight to avoid dissociating.

Yet LEOs sometimes experiencing dissociation within the “three”, the one who, during the separation of the soul/spirit from their body, got dissociated towards other realities from their past, could be accompanied by the others to “bring back” precious energetic permeation, including unconscious information to be deciphered by others, and come back to their present reality.

We have noticed that the dissociation phenomenon produced by the experience of triplicativity is a most powerful channel to perceive the origin of an individual’s behaviour, when they are piloted by an alter-ego or directly by STS entities of the higher planes. From experience, and we also noticed it, when some important memories were liberated from the magnetic field of the soul, (that is to say when their origins were brought to light in previous incarnations), strange phenomena sometimes ensued. These would look like strong sensations of internal combustion, similar to strong inner “thermonuclear” burns, of which we are sometimes subject, in the way that these symptoms would affect our physical-biological structure in the infinitely small atom.

These sensations of very strong heat, often painful, sometimes almost unbearable, occasionally affect extremities (especially the hands), but particularly the activity area of the energetic centres of the belly, the chest and the head. They are generally confused with common flu symptoms or a disruption of the intestinal microbiota attributed to the Co/vid 1/9 virus.

Together with the C’s, the Angel, our higher center of consciousness assured that this strong heat was attributable to phenomena of transfusion of alternative realities, breaking out during the fusion of our body with the energy of our double or with the one of an alter-ego endowed with a higher frequency. This inner fire would then be perceptible when we merge with ourselves from another reality.

Thus, to know even more about these phenomena of fusion and transition of realities, we have questioned our Angel again.

Question to the Angel:

What would be the criteria, if they existed, which would provoke the process of fusion with the Spirit as announced by the C's or Bernard de Montréal?

It is about understanding that when it will be fully accomplished, the fusion of the Spirit with your current physical body will automatically transfer at some point your “material body” into the worlds of 4th density. The need to reincarnation of the body will then be abolished.

The process of fusion depends above all on the individual, their personality, their self-discipline, their faith in their higher Spirit (their higher Self). This process of fusion already initiated by some small groups of individuals on the planet will continue during more than 2000 years for the rest of humanity.

This fusion with the Spirit would imply that the individual having begun the release of their astralized memories by an intense work on themselves, leading to a deep inner change, will see more and more noticeable changes in their “outer reality” of 3rd density.

In other words, and as Bernard de Montréal also underlines it: “When the atomic consciousness of the human is advanced enough, the ray [the radiation of the higher Intelligence or Spirit] no longer creates suffering in the human, since the latter lives their material life in harmony with the consciousness of their spirit.” The phenomenon of fusion

As we have already said: Man won't be slave to matter anymore, but matter will be totally at their service!

This is how the “beginning of change” induced by this new form of expression of consciousness, will produce a “new frequency of wave” of gravitation, thus another reality. And this is also why the true work on your inner Self has become the true fight against the reality of your world of 3rd density, against everything that exists in your mind. But if you carried on combating, fighting, protesting against laws, rules, against everything that leaders and their governments, institutions, media... show off or exhibit in the outer world, your fight would have been a losing battle!

This said, dreaming about peace in the world is decent and imaginative, but is not the reality or your world here! The dream, the imaginary, is however the cradle of new ideas, of intuition, of thinking. But very few people are already psychically mature enough and sufficiently freed from their emotional, to accept new ideas coming from their dreams, their imagination. Moreover, if these new ideas do not respond to the illusions on which their ego was built and against which their inner psychic fights are still organized, they will continue to wish to escape from their material reality, to dissociate themselves towards the astral. Their world will thus remain as it is!

It would then be essential that you perceive the positive uses of dissociation, of the dream or of the imaginary, by carrying on in the healing processes of the moments of “pathologic dissociations”, by talking to each other. Only then, you can keep contact with the higher Self and the Spirit of the tribe.

Since time spent in lucid or beneficial dissociation can enhance your life, give you new ideas and understandings about how to redefine your lives, change your programs or create new patterns of behaviour.

The process of dissociation should then not remain a temporary escape which, when you come back, keeps you trapped in old feelings making you believe that you are not up to the task, not nice, powerless, useless or that you have not found your niche... This “pathological dissociation” has no other objective than to submerge you in an illusory world in order to take you away from material life, especially in order not to have to face your problems.

To sum up, some pathological dissociations are purely energy theft caused by someone else, a dead alter from the astral world that, instead of finding the source of their own creativity, steals it through the psychism of their host.

Visions emerging during dissociations are then never innately destructive. They can sometimes be very useful, since they are often a source of creative activities. Thus, the importance of dissociation when it reveals beneficial totally depends on its content, that is to say, on the events occurring during this period where the soul is out of the body and especially on the circumstances in which it happened.

Science talks about dissociation as a psychological disorder, like multiple personality disorder (MPD) or dissociative identity disorder (DID), which would be characterized by the presence of several distinct personalities, alter-egos taking control of the major personality: the host. The latter generally ignores the existence of their alter-egos and has no memory of having been inhabited.

According to specialists, the dissociative identity disorder is among the most controversial dissociative disorders and would be caused by altered states of consciousness (ASC) during a physical trauma and/or a psychic shock sometimes occurring simultaneously. This state of being between two worlds can be confused by laymen with a “classical state of shock”, caused by an accident.

Often, in order to make a diagnosis of dissociative identity disorder, the patient had to meet several criteria including that of having been abused by one of their relatives. One of the features of the pervasive developmental disorder (PDD), among these dissociative identity disorders, is the total oblivion by the victim of a sexual abuse by a relative. In 3rd density, this traumatic amnesia of invasive developmental disorder is generally a source of repetitive karmic loops. And in order to bring back buried memories, competent therapists apply specific methods, among which regression therapies using suggestion during altered states of consciousness.

Under the guidance of the therapist who voluntarily plunges them into an altered state of consciousness, the candidate will have flashes, images or fragments of scenes of the original trauma which, although interpreted as memories of the trauma, provoke similar emotional states. These traumas can sometimes be registered as scenes from past lives, sometimes also future lives, but future is generally not admitted, nor understood by the linear mind of the therapist himself. This raises questions about legitimacy and reality of the worlds explored by the dissociated parts of the individual. However, it should be said, future is as real as past, except that it does not occur in the same world, nor in the same space-time, nor in the same density of reality.

Question to the Angel:

How does consciousness evolve in the worlds beyond?

In the worlds of the low astral, the individual consciousness does not and cannot evolve, since it is not subject to the law of time anymore and in this astral, the soul of the individual doesn't question itself anymore. This sort of consciousness mired in the low astral is specific to the lost souls, psychopaths or organic portals not having awakened, therefore not having progressed in their lifetime. Without any possibility to evolve, their astralized spirit remains as is, simply because it is separated from its higher Consciousness. And this is because it was subject to the far too rigid influence of the ego, by beliefs which made it “imagine” to have reached the peak of the evolution mechanism and think it already knew everything during its incarnation, that these souls will simply be recycled into the energy of the Universe.

In the worlds of the upper astral, that is, of the living, the consciousness of Man evolves because their mind is polarized by the lower mind and the higher mind, which are both submitted to the influence of time. The opposition between the lower mind (ruled by the ego known as “negative”) and the higher mind (ruled by the Self, not to be confused with the higher Self), is expressed by the fact that you live in a world of duality. However, you already know that your thoughts influence your life, resulting either from the lower mind when your thoughts are driven by the ego, or from the higher mind when they are inspired by the soul/spirit.

For the time being on Earth, this is rather the lower mind which governs most people's lives without them knowing. Yet, human race deliberately chose to experiment the astralized worlds by and because of their genetic programming, in order to participate to the evolution of the worlds and their civilizations.

Today, at the end of this cycle of the human world, your psychism is progressively turning towards a more and more evolving and positive thinking polarity, that is to say towards your true Self. Besides, most of you already begin to master their negative thoughts; even more so that thoughts have a real creative power, since what you think creates your reality!

In short, it is thus a mechanism of polarization of the ego governing your mind and your thoughts. You have also observed that when driven by a parasitic psychic entity, the ego of the lower mind only lives through the negative, separation, fear, doubt... At that moment, connected to the planetary collective pride, the ego reads only astralized reflections of the human society convinced of its superiority in the Universe, but totally ignorant of the cosmic laws!

At the end of times, in other words at the end of this cycle, the consciousness of Man will have become that of the Spirit again, which from that moment on, will be aware of everything, will know everything about everything. Since it has the knowledge of the Whole, the knowledge of the law of One, the higher Spirit represents the lessons of the experiences lived during the incarnations on Earth and elsewhere.

Thereby, during some phenomena of dissociation, "the entity individual" just reconnects to one of their doubles by this Spirit, which in the same way "watches over" other parts of this "entity individual" separated from the One, living and existing on other planes of existence and of reality.

So even if they are slowly grasping the phenomena of afterlife, psychiatrists ignore everything about the laws of reincarnation, and specifically that of the impossibility for deceased people to understand the things of life. They do not know that in order to learn from these things and understand them, "the entity individual" has to be incarnated in a body.

Because even Consciousness is not submitted to the law of time as in your world, the progression of Man's intelligence is subject to it! Their intelligence grows during the experience in a material world, because the brain is the tool of the production of intelligence. While the Spirit does not need to become intelligent, it has always been so!

What you understood, unlearn you must!

But when the intelligence of the higher Spirit merges with human intelligence, that is, when the Spirit merges with your body (first through the brain), phenomena of merging realities are also occurring gradually. This obviously means that a future higher reality, that is to say, more advanced than that of the world in which you are still living, is also beginning to merge with your current reality. This announces that your world of 3rd density, which is falling apart, will gradually be replaced by a neo-reality of 4th density: the New Earth, slowly established upon a new paradigm of consciousness.

One should also keep in mind that “thinking” is real and uses the same psychic and electromagnetic mechanisms than dreams, out of body experiences, near-death experiences (NDE)... That is why during a coma due to head trauma, inducing a fracture in the magnetic field inside the cranium, NDE experiencers no longer think through their brain, since they no longer can. As well as when people traumatically dissociate, their thoughts disconnected from their present reality come directly from the higher planes. And when they come from these higher planes, these thoughts are freed from duality, judgment, hence ego, and only serve to support the worlds explorer’s “temporary viewing”.

(See the experience with ECK: https://bienvenussurlanouvelleterre.jimdofree.com/notre-histoire/2-jena %C3%Abl/)

During an ordinary out of body experience (that is non-traumatic), individuals lose their mental faculties and their faculties of thinking, but by no means “their consciousness”! However, “this consciousness which therefore is suspended in no-time”, that can no longer be truly filtered, fragmented through a brain since it is the etheric body that detaches itself from the physical body, thoughts then come directly from astral worlds, sometimes also from an already achieved future, as “memories” or beliefs. These thoughts thus only belong to the observer’s ego!

It is now about understanding that dark, negative or unhealthy thoughts, come from psychic predatory entities of STS 4th density. Even for humans who are alive in a physical body, “the contents” of their thoughts are not reality, but reflections, assumptions, interpretations of what they perceive from reality or of themselves.

Thus, it is primarily the “STS” Spirit which, thanks to the soul memories inherent in the astral world, manipulates the psyche of Man. But most ordinary individuals are not able to acknowledge this truth, since they remain completely unaware of this phenomenon. Consequently, in 3rd density, thoughts are induced, suggested and projected into the human psyche by predators from the STS 4th density in order to “serve the matrix”.

We are telling you again: the thoughts that you think are yours are almost never your thoughts! But the raw perception of the present moment prevents you from excessively freezing your usual perceptions into immutable and stiff mental rules. For this reason, the distance in relation to your mental activity and your reality arose from the inner observation, prevents you from imprisoning yourselves in the strict framework of thought, providing you in return a greater flexibility of thought and action, hence a greater freedom to be, and thereby increases your frequency of resonance.

Your reality, arose from inner observation, allows you to keep you from emotions linked to convictions, whether they are conscious or deeply unconscious. This psychic mechanism protects you from identifying yourselves with versions of yourselves, which are only mental stories made of thoughts, images and automatic reactions coming from your past lives in astralized worlds. And that is thanks to this mechanism that you avoid the exhausting struggle that would follow to maintain, value, improve all these versions of your past lives! This is also how you will preserve yourselves from Self-deprecation or on the contrary from hatred of whatever questions your side of the story.

In addition, the inner observation as you practice it during your sharing is a pragmatic approach of truth. As self-observation is providing you hindsight, it thus allows you to see what in your deeds, your actions, your mental and your words makes your Beingness rise or on the contrary does not help it progress.

This distinction between conscious attention and the mental, and more generally this hindsight in relation to thought, is a teaching that is found in many modern psychology approaches. The same is true in the cognitive approach of Buddhist psychology or that of the wave of cognitive and behavioural therapies as acceptance and commitment therapies for pathological and autistic dissociated individuals.

All these approaches reflect psychological processes that are very often of transdimensional origin. But understanding them would not be enough to integrate them into your way of being. It is still necessary to put them into practice in order to get used to detach yourself from your astralized thoughts and to distinguish them from your higher mental activity expressed by Consciousness, which alone is truly capable of accepting these mental phenomena as part of the learning from your practices of non-attachment to mental activity.

Question to the Angel:

We understand that the rulers of the global deep State are seeking to reduce the planetary population by using the pretext that the planet must be saved. So, will our Earth also go back to the state of ashes and dust like D'Ankhiar, Mars, the Moon or like other astralized stars of our solar system?

Coming from the depths of cosmos, the predatory system aims to maintain human being during all their lives under its influence in order to use and feed on their energy. This is why that system urges and encourages war between peoples. But these predatory entities never run the outcome of the conflicts and do not care in any way about the outcome of battles. They simply settle for getting sustained with their dense and heavy energy, that is, with misfortune, distress, anxiety, fear... generated by death "lurking" in families.

Ordinary human beings, ignoring the psychic power of the STS hyperdimensional corpus, are captive to this predator that is accepted as their master, their god. This belief system is established by that same corpus which governs all the leaders of the planet no matter the side to which opposing nations belong. Its mechanism was able to make humanity weak and obedient, by stifling any chance of protest, challenge, rebellion against the leaders of the nations and firmly prevents it from being free.

Humanity is held captive by the astral through its beliefs that drive it to demonstrate or to fight for freedom and peace on Earth. Ignorant of this truth, it will thus remain a prisoner of the 3rd density astral and will be obliged to reincarnate over and over again, until it will eventually understand or otherwise disappear!

Hyperdimensional STS predators hold ordinary humanity locked up, because ordinary people are their source of livelihood. They need ignorant people to feed themselves, that is to remain in 4th density of Service to the Self and preserve their role of guardian of the matrix!

But what people who claim to be spiritual still do not understand, is that if the individual manages to merge with their higher Self, otherwise called their Spirit, they won't need to reincarnate in densified bodies of flesh anymore, will no longer feed the predatory matrix system, but will pursue their evolutionary course through a new etheric body which will provide them all the sensations of a densified body. They will thus feel alive in another reality, freed from the matrix of beliefs inherent in the Service to the Self as they knew it before!

Then, they will be able to experience simultaneously many realities and worlds, whether they have a feminine, masculine or androgynous appearance! And it is to prepare you for the density change, that some of you had been predisposed to experiencing triplicativity, since in the ancient world astralized by duality, this operating mode was not accepted.

The stupidity of the dual belief system and the inconsistency of human behaviour that out of habit try by all means to save themselves, are such that predators have managed to impose on the ordinary man their matrix system with their own ideas about good and evil. Humanity has been imprisoned that way in preconceived and irrevocably fixed social mores.

By suggesting to human being hope for a better future, by generating in them expectations, dreams of freedom, fantasies of all kinds, they maintain their psyche in the matrix illusion resulting in frustration, jealousy, possessiveness... These hyperdimensional predators had replaced Man's mind with theirs, which is versatile, inconsistent, gross and haunted by the fear of being discovered. But for now, their intelligence is still sovereign, effective, "competent" and sagacious enough to ensure the ordinary individual's obedience, docility and apathy.

And yet, more and more individuals already understand that most often, their thoughts do not originate from their brain, that something thinks for them and prevents them from thinking by themselves. Waking up, this tiny part of humanity begins to understand that their state of sleep suits well the governments. Conditioned since childhood by school, educational, religious, political programs, everyone finally came to think in the same way.

That is how, at the globalist elite level, the STS corpus' goal was not to teach you to think by yourselves, but to hypnotize you to better control you. The secret government perfectly understands the creative power of thoughts! That is why it prevents people from taking time with themselves to find the time to think. And it does so skillfully through media, by creating false realities, false needs and by constantly inventing new virtual technologies in order to cut them off from their intimacy with nature. And through the resulting vibratory, genetic programming and psychological conditioning, it generates false beliefs that look like the truth to the ordinary individual!

Actually, human ego does not think for itself, but for society in which it is living. Its blindness prevents it from asking questions, reflecting, even from thinking by itself. Human society is sick of its limiting and limited beliefs, that constantly imprison it in past and astralized memories. And as long as Man will not be conscious of that truth, they will not question their system of thought. And as long as they will not agree to start a real inner work in order to integrate the Spirit, the Earth will continue to depopulate. Since a planet without consciousness, without true intelligence, as had become D'Ankhiar after the departure of life planners, is meant to return to dust.

(See Chronicle n°19: <https://unfuturdifferent.jimdofree.com/traductions/anglais/>)

The underlying reason for Earth depopulation is simply to be seen in relation to the decrease of Man's intelligence and consciousness. But individuals who are fully committed to change consciousness, to seek Knowledge, to regain intelligence, will gradually see their environment change and separate from astral frequencies. Their reality will become different since they will merge with their spirit of the "future". Some of the initiates call this phenomenon of time travel "seraphic travel".

During the fall of Atlantis, this time travel was initiated and then led by Kachinas. The latter were the spirit of some leading individuals who, altogether, had managed to create a new center of consciousness and had enabled some of their compatriots to land on what would become their new Earth, their new reality. For these Atlanteans in this case, this new reality manifested itself in matter, when the Atlantis continent sinking in the Atlantic Ocean, reshaped the continental plates tectonics of Europe.

Humans of the future will thus have to regain control of their thoughts and emancipate themselves from their beliefs in order to break free from their conditioning, regain power over their own life and wake up to a new consciousness to "produce" a new material reality.

This new paradigm is already possible! Since you are helped by the planet's vibratory changes and cometary viruses that accelerate the healings of human intellect.

Time travelers riding the Wave of change did not come back from the future to go sightseeing! They have come back to reprogram your genetics in order to create a new, smarter and more creative human race, so that it can also cooperate in the future with the world planners and creators clan.

Then, dear students of ÉCOLEO, do no longer remain victims of your thoughts, your beliefs, your emotions. Continue to learn how to master your mind, your thoughts, your emotions, your words and your deeds and become master of yourselves again! Progress towards a happier life and become creators again according to your intuitions.

Even if your creative impulses are not always logical, simply be honest with yourselves and others, and emancipate yourselves from the opinions of others. Continue to be upright in communication and have the courage to express your feelings without sustaining astralized beliefs, in order to give others the best of yourselves!
